

Support Alpha-1? All in a day's work!

Learn how easy it is to give at the office.

There are many ways to get involved in workplace giving. Matching gifts, payroll deduction or volunteering. See how you can get involved...

United Way participants need only write "Alpha-1 Foundation" on the line for "other" designees on the payroll deduction form.

Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) participants (postal workers, court employees, and military, FBI, DEA, and IRS, for example) must specify our code 11717 to select the Alpha-1 Foundation.

Hundreds of companies offer a matching gift program, which can double or, in some cases, triple your contribution to the Alpha-1 Foundation.

Many companies offer incentives to employees for volunteering to support the Alpha-1 Foundation. Some programs offer time off to volunteer or make contributions to reward your volunteer activities.

Invite friends who work for companies that participate in United Way, or who are federal employees to increase our efforts in finding a cure.

To find out if your company has a program to encourage workplace giving, contact your human resources department.

The Alpha-1 Foundation maintains essential programs that drive its mission of finding a cure for Alpha-1 Antitrypsin Deficiency and improving the lives of people affected by Alpha-1 worldwide. Through dedication to this mission, the Foundation has fostered an informed, educated and cohesive community of patients, caregivers, families and healthcare professionals. The strength and support of our community, volunteers, researchers, clinicians and corporate partners enables the Alpha-1 Foundation to continually push the boundaries of detection, research, advocacy, learning and support to make a profound difference in the lives of Alphas who need our help.
